Miss June Summers Becomes Bride in Pasadena Church

Of interest to Torrance residents is the recent marriage of Miss Virginia June Summers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Summers of Pasadena and formerly of this city, and Jack Knight Dorrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dorrington, of Los Angeles.

The ceremony was held on the sixteenth birthday of the bride's brother, Ivan, who served as usher.

The service was performed in the newly completed St. Mark's Episcopal church, Altadena. Entering on the arm of her father, the bride was radiant in traditional white satin, fashioned with full train and her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl coronet. Her flowers were white carnations and stephanotis centered by double cymbidium orchids.

Pastel gowns were worn by the attendants, who were Miss Barbara Thaxter, of Fresno, and formerly of Torrance, as maid of honor; Mrs. William Flint, Jr., and Miss Catherine Haldene of Pasadena. Mrs. Winston Cordes was vocal soloist and her daughter, Dorothy Marion, was flower girl.

The bridegroom was served by Burdette Mosier, as best man and William Flint, Jr., usher. A reception followed at the Summer's Layton street home, and subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Dorrington left for a honeymoon trip to Lake Arrowhead. They will live in San Gabriel.

The bride attended U.C.L.A. and the bridegroom, who served with the Army in India for three years, is now attending Los Angeles City College.

The attendants were previously honored at a luncheon at which Mrs. Summers was hostess.

Trio Rebekah Lodge Seats Officers In Beautiful Rite

Hanging honeysuckle vines and tall baskets of mauve hydrangeas created an attractive floral setting for the installation of officers of Trio Rebekah Lodge Wednesday night in the Community Presbyterian church social hall.

Installation services were conducted by Anne Brown of Compton, district deputy president, and her district installing staff. Myrtle Ballard was the installing marshal. The installed officers wore pastel formal gowns and carried nosegays of asters in mixed colors. The incoming noble grand, Margie Russell, carried a bouquet of red roses, and Dorothy Rogers, the new vice grand a bouquet of purple asters. Mrs. Brown was attired in a pale grey formal gown, and her staff wore pink and blue. Mrs. Ballard's gown was of melon crepe.

Following the installation, refreshments were served by a committee composed of Loudine Roberts, Julia Keys, Retta Nelson and Etta Woods, at tables appointed with attractively arranged dahlias and oleanders. Members of the decorations committee were: Olive Veatch, Marshall Tappin, Lola Nelson and Hattie Schroeder.

The officers installed were: Loudine Roberts, junior past

YWCA GROUP REPORTS TOUR OF L.A. POINTS OF INTEREST, ATTENDANCE AT SACRED PLAY

On Tuesday of last week several YWCA young adults held an all-day excursion to points of interest near Los Angeles.

Following luncheon the girls visited the Coliseum and rose garden in Los Angeles, from there touring to Mt. Wilson where they spent the afternoon at the observatory, spending some time studying the rock formations and other natural phenomena in the Mt. Wilson region. After a picnic supper the girls attended the Pilgrimage Play in Hollywood, this drama based upon the life of Jesus Christ.

Concerning the play the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors states: "Spiritual Enrichment and Enlightenment should be the ultimate aspiration of civilized living. There exist in Los Angeles county notable institutions of higher learning. There are matchless cultural advantages which make for a filler life. The Huntington Library and Art Gallery houses treasures of literature and art available for study and research. The rich resources of the county include also Hollywood Bowl, celebrated for its annual summer Symphonies under the Stars and its uplifting, non-sectarian Easter sunrise service every spring. The Pilgrimage Play in its picturesque hillside theater brings in dramatic form the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth to thousands who receive a message of peace and hope and profound inspiration. So, in art, education, music and the Theatre, Los Angeles County offers to the world an abundance of good and enduring things for eternal Spiritual Enrichment".

This is the twenty-first season of the Pilgrimage Play. It was founded by Christine Wetherill Stevenson, who sought an antidote for the hatred engendered by World War I. After some success in other dramas, Mrs. Stevenson thought of developing a cycle of plays dealing with great religious leaders. As she thought of this plan, her mind became imbued with the idea of presenting the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. "Recognizing the far-reaching value of the work and promises of the Master Christian, she was inspired to prepare a drama that would bring out the salient features and episodes of His life and works."

It was difficult to choose the right spot for the outdoor theater. However, the desirable site was found, and it is reported that many men and women actually carried stones from the hills to build the first stage. Mrs. Stevenson herself made a trip to the Holy Land and brought back cloth woven from camel's hair, textiles of wool and other stage properties to help make the production authentic.

The character of Jesus of Nazareth is played by Nelson Leigh. Of him it is said that "he brings to the part a deep conviction and fervent understanding of the lasting and inspiring words spoken by the Man of Galilee nineteen centuries ago." Surely after seeing Mr. Leigh's interpretation of the Master, no one can in any way doubt his love for the Person whose life he depicts.

Mrs. Gladys Evans of 1655 W. 216th st., grand deputy guardian State of California, International Order of Job's Daughters, made her official visit to Compton Bethel, Tuesday evening of last week.

Highlight of the evening was the initiation of 14 candidates to membership in the Compton Bethel.

guardian, and Mrs. Grace Ashley, guardian treasurer of Torrance Bethel No. 50.

Special entertainment was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served in the banquet room, lovely with a profusion of summer flowers.

Mrs. Evans was the recipient of many gifts cleverly presented by members of the Compton Bethel.

60 cycles
NOT NOW,
BUT SOON

Your electrical current will not be changed to 60 cycles for another month or two, (you will receive the exact date in the mail) but we're getting ready for the changover now. Fifty-cycle meters are being replaced by 60-cycle ones in homes, offices and business places of Edison customers here.

Installation of the new meter does not mean that your frequency has been changed. The meter merely records the current—it does not change the frequency.

When the changover is completed, Edison customers will enjoy the many advantages of mass production and standardization, now that 60 cycles is the national standard. You will be able to enjoy the various frequency-sensitive devices (record players, clocks, timers, automatic washing machines, etc.) now being produced only for 60-cycle use.

The nuisance and expense of cycle-changing such items if you ever move out of Edison territory will be gone, too, because 60 cycles now is being used in practically all the nation. The change to 60-cycle current is another demonstration of Edison's desire to improve your electric service in every possible way.
